

The logo for Saban's Power Rangers in Space is centered in the image. It features the words "POWER" and "RANGERS" in a bold, yellow, 3D block font with a slight shadow. Between them is a stylized silver lightning bolt. Below "POWER" and "RANGERS" is the word "IN" in a smaller, yellow, sans-serif font. Underneath "IN" is the word "SPACE" in a large, silver, 3D block font with a shadow. The entire text is set against a blue diamond-shaped background with a starry pattern. A trademark symbol (TM) is located at the bottom right of the diamond. The background of the entire image is a dark space scene with a large, colorful planet (Earth) in the upper left, a bright blue star in the upper right, and a reddish planet (Mars) in the lower right. The scene is filled with streaks of light representing stars or motion.

Power Rangers Rockets into Deep Space this Fall!

They've kept the earth safe! Now, the stakes are even higher. This time the entire universe is at risk. First "Morphin," then "ZEO," now "Turbo." And soon, the Power Rangers will embark on their greatest adventure yet, in . . . "Power Rangers in Space!"

In deep space, a federation of evil leaders is called together for an urgent summit. Among the familiar faces: Divatox, Lord Zedd, and Rita Repulsa. Their new leader? The most sinister of them all: Dark Specter. His plan of destruction: kidnap the great wizard Zordon as he returns to his home planet, and drain him of his good energy, his knowledge, and his wisdom and turn his powers to evil.

United to foil Dark Specter's plot, the Power Rangers must travel into deep space and free Zordon before his powers become Dark Specter's.

Unfortunately, time is not always on their side. The Rangers must race back to the Command Center on earth to re-energize their weapons and vehicles. Whenever the Rangers are away on a mission, Angel Grove is left unprotected. So they never venture far for too long and if needed, the Rangers will always stay and defend planet earth!
